

Piano Quartet

Redon

A musical friendship starts with a 'click'. This is how all leading ensembles, which now belong to the world top, once started..

The Redon Piano Quartet is no exception: a new ensemble of four young musicians, who are no strangers to classical music lovers.

Violinist Pieter van Loenen, violist Dana Zemtsov, cellist Laura van der Heijden and pianist Alexander Ullman have all won prizes at prestigious competitions and are also very active as soloists. Now they find each other in this formation and play chamber music with infectious dedication and enthusiasm.

The Redon Piano Quartet has only just been formed, but has already filled a complete broadcast of the Evening Concert on NPO Radio 4. At the invitation of the BBC, the foursome has made its UK debut as well.

Several concerts in The Netherlands followed this and the next season.
